

VETERINARY CLINICAL PATHOLOGIST

Lab Services Ltd is a busy, growing veterinary diagnostic laboratory, specialising in companion animals. We are conveniently situated in Watford, Hertfordshire - close to all major airports and less than 25 minutes to London by train. The laboratory provides Biochemistry, Haematology, Cytology and Microbiology services for veterinary practices nationwide. The laboratory holds UKAS accreditation to ISO 17025.

We are looking for a veterinary clinical pathologist to join our team. The main roles of the position include examination and reporting of cytology and haematology samples, interpretation of clinical chemistry results, phone consultations with clients and resident training for the FRCPath examination. Contributions towards quality control, managing the technical team and promotion of the laboratory may also be considered. Applicants require membership of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons, as well as certification in Clinical Pathology (FRCPath, ECVCP, ACVP) or eligibility to sit board examinations.

To apply for this position, please email your CV and cover letter to lab@labservices.uk.com
