

POSITION ADVERTISING COPY
----------------------------------

Assistant Professor, Tenure-track
Veterinary Clinical Pathology Program
Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences
College of Veterinary Medicine, Washington State University
Pullman, Washington

The Washington State University (WSU) Department of Clinical Sciences (VCS) seeks to fill a tenure-track, full-time, 12-month position in its Veterinary Teaching Hospital (VTH) in the Veterinary Clinical Pathology unit. The position is offered at the Assistant Professor rank, and is available July 1, 2012. The position will join a team whose primary mission will be clinical teaching, service and scholarship.

RESPONSIBILITIES: The successful applicant will have responsibility for participation in didactic/clinical teaching of professional veterinary students, interns, residents, and graduate students, provision of diagnostic service for the Veterinary Teaching Hospital, development of an independent or collaborative research program, and provision of service to the University and veterinary community. The successful applicant must be able to effectively communicate and work with a diverse group of people.

QUALIFICATIONS: The candidate must possess a DVM or related degree and be board-eligible or certified in ACVP or ECVCP. Preferred qualifications include board certification in ACVP or ECVCP, an advanced degree, a record of research or scholarly productivity, evidence of expertise in teaching and diagnostic service, and a demonstrated ability to work with others in a team atmosphere.

APPLICATION INFORMATION: Review of applications begins May 1, 2012 and continues until the position is filled. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants are required to submit electronically a cover letter which states candidate's goals; curriculum vitae; summary of teaching and research interests and goals; and the names and contact information including email address of three (3) professional references. Three (3) letters of recommendation are required and will be automatically requested and obtained from the reference provider through the WSU online application system. Apply at, www.wsujobs.com/applicants/Central?quickFind=56984. Questions regarding the position may be directed to Dr. K. Jane Wardrop, Chair of the Search Committee, by email (kjw@vetmed.wsu.edu), or by telephone (509)335-0820.

AREA OVERVIEW: The mission of VCS is to serve the community through education and through generation and dissemination of new information, for the benefit of animal and human health and well-being. The WSU College of Veterinary Medicine (CVM) is organized into three departments, including VCS, Veterinary Microbiology and Pathology (VMP) and Veterinary and Comparative Anatomy, Pharmacology and Physiology (VCAPP), each dedicated to excellence in teaching, research and service. In addition, the Paul G. Allen School for Global Animal Health and the School of Molecular Biosciences have recently joined the CVM, adding depth to its teaching, research and service missions.

Washington State University is a PAC-12 school and a land-grant institution with an enrollment of approximately 19,000 students on its Pullman campus and another 5,000 students statewide. The University of Idaho, also a land grant university, is located in Moscow, Idaho, 8 miles from the Pullman campus. These communities offer a friendly, small-town living environment and access to a rich assortment of cultural, recreational and athletic attractions. Pullman has a four-season climate, clean air, good schools, affordable homes, and a low crime rate. Pullman (population 28,000) is about 75 miles south of Spokane, Washington, and lies close to recreational areas in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and British Columbia. To learn more about the Pullman community, visit: <http://www.pullmanchamber.com>. The university's web page (www.wsu.edu) offers information about WSU and the surrounding area.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/ AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EDUCATOR AND EMPLOYER.