Clinical Pathologist

Ref: M00266

Salary: £31,798 - £35,788

The School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Glasgow, United Kingdom is seeking a temporary veterinary clinical pathologist to contribute to the service provision within the Veterinary Diagnostic Service (VDS) and teaching on the veterinary undergraduate pathology course. This is a fixed-term position to cover maternity leave.

The clinical pathologists in this busy unit are supported by a highly experienced team of technical staff. Applicants should have a veterinary degree and prior training and experience in veterinary clinical pathology relevant to a further qualification (e.g. RCPPath fellowship or ECVCP diploma).

Glasgow is a friendly and popular city offering numerous cultural and historic attractions, with easy access to some of the most beautiful wilderness and countryside areas in the world. Come and enjoy a unique experience in Scotland and further your career at the same time, as part of a high-quality diagnostic team.

We would like someone to start as soon as possible and the position will be available to approximately 6 months.
