

Veterinary Clinical Pathologist (permanent position)

(Teaching Fellow/ Senior Teaching Fellow)

Salary: £39,992-£56,950

We are seeking a motivated, enthusiastic veterinary clinical pathologist to join our team of board-certified veterinary anatomic pathologists and investigation officers, based in our £11m purpose built state-of-the-art Veterinary Pathology Centre based in Guildford, Surrey.

You will be an MRCVS with FRCPath/ECVP/ACVP (clinical pathology) and have a particular interest in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching. You will have excellent communication skills, an appetite for innovative teaching and diagnostics and be able to work well in a team. You will be supported by a team of veterinary surgeons, board-certified pathologists, scientists and skilled technical staff.

This post will be primarily a teaching post. You will be tasked with developing the clinical pathology component of the Surrey veterinary curriculum and setting up a clinical pathology teaching laboratory. However, In addition to providing clinical diagnostic pathology support to the veterinary community, you will also have the opportunity to work with experts from local world class veterinary practices, institutes and government agencies through our many collaborative partnerships.

This is an exciting opportunity for a highly motivated individual to play a leading role in helping shape the University's new veterinary education programmes and to further develop the area of veterinary diagnostic pathology.

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Roberto La Ragione at the following e-mail address: (r.laragione@surrey.ac.uk), Head of the department of Pathology and Infectious Diseases and Director of the Surrey Veterinary Pathology Centre.

To apply for this position, please click on the following link:

<https://jobs.surrey.ac.uk/vacancy.aspx?ref=081217-RR>