

You're invited to PathConnexx!

As a resident of clinical or anatomic veterinary pathology in Europe, you're invited to visit one of the largest laboratories worldwide for veterinary diagnostics. You'll gain insight into the operation methods of our experienced diagnostic pathologists, meet the in-house pathology team, and experience how digital pathology allows collaboration irrespective of geographic borders.

Space is limited so please register soon for a chance to attend!

Timeline: 21st – 23rd June, 2023

Location: Kornwestheim, Germany

Register by: 12 May 2023

Confirmation: We will be in touch to let you know if you are selected as an attendee.

What to Expect?

- 21st June: You arrive in the afternoon. During a casual dinner, you will meet staff members of our pathology team.
- 22nd June: We will start with an exciting tour through our laboratory where you have the chance to gain insight into our diagnostic procedures. Afterwards, you will have the opportunity to meet with our in-house pathology team and discuss interesting cases with international team members. We end the day with having dinner together in a nice restaurant.
- 23rd June: You will travel back home.

All expenses paid!

All costs including travel, overnight stay in a hotel, and meals will be covered by IDEXX. If you are coming from a non-European country, we will cover travel costs up to 200 Euros / 200 Dollars.
